SUSPECTS OF SEX CRIMES ROUNDED UP

Assaults On Three Women In 48 Hrs. Brings Action

BULLETIN
Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Acting Police Captain Raymond Crane announced today he had received "positive information" that the degenerate slayer of Nurse Anna Kuchta at the Chicago hospital was a white man and not a negro as was first believed.

The police official said he was "convinced" the slayer was white despite the insistence of Miss Kuchta's roommate, Nurse Florence Palmowski, that the man she saw fleeing from the brutal slaying was a negro.

Although he suppressed the source of his information, Captain Crane sent out on the police teletype system a description of a man 25 to 28 years old, five feet, ten or eleven inches tall, light complexion, light brown hair and thin face. His weight was given at about 150 pounds.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—The slaying of a pretty nurse and assaults upon two other women—all in a 48-hour period—sent police on a roundup today of "every man with a record for any sex offense."

The latest assault victim was Mrs. Anna Hollander, 50, who was beaten and knocked unconscious by a Negro on a south side prairie last night.

She said the man approached her from the field and struck her with his fists. Mrs. Hollander cried out: "Take my purse, take my purse," but instead he tore her dress and struck her again.

Frightened by a passing car, her assailant fled after leaving her on the ground unconscious.

Meanwhile, police guarded hospitals, nurses' homes, hotels and other living quarters for young women while authorities questioned more than 100 suspects in the rape-slaying of a 19-year-old nurse, and the razor assault upon another a few hours later.

Round Up Ordered
Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed police, ordered all districts to "bring in every man with a record for any sex offense," after Miss Florence Swanson, 34, was slashed with a razor by an intruder early Sunday.

Miss Anna Kuchta was slain and raped by a Negro who entered her second floor room at the Chicago hospital through a fire escape window Saturday.

Miss Swanson, who is night superintendent of nurses at the Jefferson Park hospital, was slashed on the chest, arms and left side. The man jumped through a screened window eight feet to the sidewalk below and fled when Miss Swanson screamed for help.

HOLD BLONDE WOMAN
Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—A blonde woman accompanying Robert F. Burns, suburban Evanston merchant, when he was slain early yesterday, was ordered held under bond today when she refused to testify at an inquest into his death.

Burns, 40, married and co-owner of a business, was slain.

'Heavy' Feeling
New York, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Four members and a friend of the family of William Jacob got a great deal of solid satisfaction out of a batch of 24 pancakes cooked by Jacob's mother.

Then they complained of a "heavy" feeling. Investigation disclosed the "flour" used in the pancakes had been plaster-of-Paris, accidentally mislaid.

Hospital physicians said all five would recover.

Democratic Leaders Believe F. D. R. Must Choose Between 2 Strategies

Washington, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Democratic leaders, worried by the strife within their party, predicted today that before Congress reconvenes President Roosevelt must choose one of these far-reaching courses of strategy:

1. Reconciliation, at the cost of abandoning some of his most cherished objectives, with the party factions which has refused to support all of his program.

2. A new campaign to rally public support and hammer through his controversial issues, risking disruption of the party beyond all repair.

One of the New Deal's most trusted strategists said privately today that Mr. Roosevelt will base his decision on the trend of public opinion within the next few weeks.

TWO BIG NIGHT SHOWS PLANNED AT COUNTY FAIR

Dixon Airport Equipped With Floodlights For Events

The Lee County Fair and Horse Show association today announced that two snappy night shows are to be held this year in connection with the fair and horse show, which opens Friday morning at the Dixon airport and continues through Sunday.

The night shows will take place Friday and Saturday evenings. With modern flood light equipment installed and ample ground space available to show the attractions to their best advantage, the association anticipates its evening shows will be well patronized.

There will be a horse show Friday and Saturday nights, with the show for stakes taking place Sunday afternoon. There is to be no fair or show Sunday morning.

In addition to the horse show on the two nights, there will be band concerts and a big program of special acts each evening. Judging of livestock will begin Friday morning. Many entries are coming in from dairy and beef cattle and sheep producers, poultry and rabbit breeders, and he is expected all classes will be filled. The premium list for these and the women's exhibits totals $4,500. It is planned to judge the livestock in the ring this year and those who wish to see the judging are asked to be on the grounds early Friday.

The judging will continue through Saturday.

DIXONITES AND SUBLETTE MAN HURT IN CRASH

Weekend Crash Toll Serious All Over Illinois

Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—An automobile whose driver attempted to avoid striking a pedestrian crashed out of control into a building, leaving two persons dead and five injured today.

The dead were Eric Hallberg, 55, of Chicago, the pedestrian, and Mrs. Pearl Besk, 27, of Chicago, wife of Peter Besk, driver of the car. The accident took place early Sunday.

Seven others were killed in other weekend auto accidents in Illinois. Elmer Erickson, 37, of Glenview; Garrett Posthumus, 38, a farmer of near Alsip and an unidentified man, aged about 60, were killed in Cook county.

At Waukegan, where the first seven months of 1937 passed without an auto fatality, John Urban, 40, a pedestrian, became the third accident victim in August.

Ralph L. Peterson, 33, of Moline, was injured fatally early on Sunday in a collision of his car and another driven by Leon Grapes, Davenport, Ia., county attorney.

Glass Cuts Fatal
In the Chicago accident fatal to two, glass from the windshield, severed Mrs. Besk's jugular vein when the automobile struck the building.

Besk and four Peru, Ill., persons riding in the car were injured. They were Edward Glowowski, 20, 217 East Seventh street; Joseph Karl, 28, 1120 Pulaski street; his wife, Estelle, and Frances Glowowski, 18. All were taken to Martha Washington hospital.

William C. Willis, 25, was injured fatally in a head-on crash near Danville.

The body of Philip Seeman, 40, a farmer, was found early today in his car, which left a road and plunged into a ditch near Monee, Ill.

DIXONITES IN WRECK
Miss Hazel Carlson, 22, of this city, was badly cut about the head and five others sustained less serious injuries in an automobile wreck Saturday evening on U. S. route 52 about three miles north of Sublette. Joe Bubrick, 27, 903 Third street, was driving the car in which Miss Carlson was a passenger and was going south, when at a curve, another machine driven by Bud Rapp of Sublette, who with three others, was coming north, sideswiped the Dixon man's car.

Rapp was reported to have been thrown from his machine by the force of the impact, and the driverless car proceeded along the edge of the paving until it crashed into the headwall of a concrete culvert and rolled over into a ditch. The Bubrick car was thrown from the paving, rolling over several times. Rapp and his passengers escaped with only minor cuts and bruises and Bubrick's injuries were of a minor nature. Miss Carlson was badly cut about the head by broken glass and was removed to Amboy where her injuries were dressed and then taken to the Amboy hospital.

Sheriff Miller and Deputy G. P. Finch were summoned to the scene and had the damaged cars removed. Reports from Amboy today were to effect that Miss Carlson sustained a deep cut on the body below the shoulder and was probably suffering from a fracture of the cheek bone.

Rescue Workers Seeking Additional Victims of Forest Fire Near Cody

Twelve Burned To Death; Scores Of Others Hurt

Cody, Wyo., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Grimy rescue workers poked through smoldering ruins of a mountain forest today seeking additional victims of a gale-driven fire which burned 12 of their companions to death.

Two score others were injured—25 so seriously they required hospital treatment.

All the victims, many of them CCC enrollees, were trapped while battling the blaze in Shoshoni National Forest in northwest Wyoming.

The blaze broke out Friday from an undetermined cause, about 35 miles northwest of here and approximately the same distance east of Yellowstone Park. It blackened 1,500 to 2,000 acres of dense timber in the Absaroka Mountains.

The searchers edged forward as the flames subsided slightly under a drizzling rain.

"We don't know whether there are more men out there or not," said John Sicker, forest superintendent, who led the battle against flame in which 500 CCC members, rangers and bureau of public roads employees participated.

Eight bodies were recovered yesterday. Three others were found last night among the gaunt skeletons of flame-stripped trees.

The twelfth victim was Roy Bevens, civilian conservation corps enrollee from Smithville, Tex., who—ironically—gasped out, "God, how lucky I am to be alive," after he was carried from the inferno.

Identification of the charred bodies was a laborious process. CCC officers, rangers and bureau of public roads officials took turns viewing the bodies in a Cody morgue.

Their list of dead: Al Clayton, 45, Sheridan, Wyo.; Billy Lee, 30, Cody, highway foreman; Jimmy Sabon, Rydville, Wyo., CCC car foreman; Rex Hale, junior technician attached to the CCC; George Rogers, George, Tex., CCC enrollee; Roy Bevens, Smithville, Tex., CCC enrollee; Ernest Seeke, La Grange, Texas, CCC enrollee; Rubin D. Sherry, Smithville, Texas, CCC enrollee.

The injured were cared for in the three small hospitals in Cody, which drew its name from "Buffalo Bill" Cody.

400 SLAIN, 1000 HURT BY SHELL IN SHANGHAI

Projectile Lands In Crowded Department Store

By MORRIS J. HARRIS

Shanghai, Aug. 23.—(AP)—An estimated 400 persons were killed and perhaps 1,000 wounded, including three Americans, by a heavy artillery shell that smashed into a crowded department store section of the international settlement today.

Scores of Americans escaped death when a second projectile pierced the six-story United States naval warehouse and crashed through to the bottom, but failed to explode.

The wounded Americans were Anthony Billingham, staff correspondent for the New York Times, Hallett Abend, chief of staff for the New York Times in China, and Blanche Tenney, Shanghai-born American.

Police said they were unable to estimate accurately the toll of injured and killed, but I counted 200 bodies and know there must have been as many more.

Origin of the department store shell was unknown. Some military experts said it may have been a 120-pound eight-inch shell which Japanese warships off Woosung were firing to protect landing of reinforcements.

After the explosion, Chinese and Japanese troops intensified the air, land and artillery battles on the fringes of the flame-swept city.

Heard Shell Coming
I was just leaving the Wing On and Company department store when the shell screamed toward the settlement. Suddenly everyone in the crowded street seemed to know it was coming.

It exploded in a mass of humanity. The fronts of the two buildings occupied by the Wing On and Company were blown away.

The entire facade and one whole corner of the Sincere Co., Ltd., great department store across the street also were blown out.

After the explosion, bricks, timbers and even steel girders hurtled through the air, adding to the destruction.

Two other shells whistled into the panic-stricken international zone. One struck the crowded Ward road prison in the northern sector of the settlement. The other sheared through the walls of the naval warehouse and smashed into the concrete basement floor without exploding.

Evacuation Plans
While the belligerent forces prepared for what many said would be the heaviest fighting yet, Americans and other foreigners hurried their evacuation plans.

Brain Twizzlers

By PROF. J. D. FLINT

An interesting problem came up in connection with a gay house party at a popular summer resort. A number of college boys and girls had planned a week-end party at the summer home of one of the group. At the last minute several were unable to go for one reason or another.

It was found that when the young people paired off—a boy and a girl there were four girls left without escorts but when they divided into groups of three—two girls and a boy—there was one boy left.

How many girls and how many boys were at the party?

Smithie 50 Years; "Business Is Fine"

Capron, Ill., Aug. 23—(AP)—

George Spencer rounded out 50 years as a blacksmith today and said business was fine.

More than 75 years old and with only a tinge of gray in his black hair, Spencer said he and his helpers have all the work they can handle, despite the "machine age". He works every day except one or two in the summer when his fishes.

He came here half a century ago from Plattville, Wis., where he was born April 10, 1862 and worked as a blacksmith's helper for Reuben

Powell. Two years later he married the boss's daughter, Carrie, and took over Powell's shop in 1906. Mrs.

Spencer died 10 years ago.

cultural country, importing 75 per

THIS WEEK—150 YEARS AGO

The Story of the Constitutional Convention of 1787

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

College records show no further consideration of the experiment by members of the Convention that week.

They discussed, instead, various provisions which were to find expression in the completed Constitution.

Among them was an amendment proposing further restrictions on the powers of Congress. Reflecting again the delegates' determination to outlaw the familiar instruments of tyranny, it provided that the Legislature shall pass no bill of attainder, nor any ex post facto law. With slight changes in wording, this amendment is today incorporated in Article I,

Section 9, of our fundamental law.

Limitations on the power of the states were also discussed. Under them the states were prohibited from entering into treaties, granting titles of nobility, coining money, granting letters of marque and reprisal, laying duties on imports, and from other actions which it was feared might endanger national unity.

Many of these prohibitions, with others discussed during the week's sessions, are also found in the completed Charter.

The Convention agreed also that work.

That Congress should "discharge the debts and fulfill the engagements of the United States."

That the Executive should take an oath to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

That foreign presents, offices or titles should be prohibited to any officer, without consent of the Legislature.

That the writ of Habeas Corpus should not be suspended, "unless required by invasion or rebellion."

That the importation of slaves should be forbidden after the year 1808.

Next Week: The Important Details.

AND THEN HE SIGNED THE BILL

In April President Roosevelt wrote to Vice President Garner as follows:
 "The present hazard of undue advances in prices, with a resultant rise in the cost of living, makes it most untimely to legalize any competitive or marketing practice calculated to facilitate increases in the most of numerous and important articles which American householders, and consumers generally, buy. You will note that the federal trade commission has made no study of the effect of resale price maintenance since 1929, but the commission does mention a reputable body of informed opinion to the effect that such control of resale prices would be harmful to the consuming public.
 Indeed the commission says:
 "There is great probability that manufacturers and dealers may abuse the power to arbitrarily fix resale prices by unduly increasing prices, resulting in bitter resentment on the part of the consuming public, especially in this period of rising prices."
 And in August he signed the bill that made it law.

STATUS OF BLACK IS QUESTIONED

Before President Roosevelt nominated Senator Black for justice of the supreme court of the United States, Senator Borah startled his associates by asserting that in his opinion there is no vacancy in the court.
 He reasoned as follows:
 The constitution provides only three ways by which a vacancy in the court may occur—impeachment, resignation, death.
 Congress in its present session passed a law providing that a member of the court might "retire" and receive a fixed stipend during his remaining lifetime.
 While in "retirement" the judge may be recalled to sit as a member of the United States circuit court of appeals.

If he is recalled, it is as a member of the supreme court, and if he is recalled without reappointment, he must still be a member of the court.

Either he is a member of the court or he is not a member of the court and can not serve in the court of appeals.

If the president and senate proceed upon the theory that there is a vacancy and name another man to the court, and the "retired" justice is recalled to sit in the court of appeals as a member of the supreme court, then there will be ten members of the court, whereas the federal law provides for a court of nine members.

Prior to the appointment of Black, the president referred the Borah theory to Attorney General Cummings for an opinion. We do not believe that anybody would expect any attorney general the president might retain to issue an opinion that the president could not make the appointment. The president must have all his horses pulling together, he says, and an attorney general issuing opinions that do not conform to the political policy would be a rarity.

There still remains the question of law, and it has been taken up by Albert Levitt, a former assistant attorney general under Cummings, to be presented to the courts. Commenting upon Levitt's action, Senator Borah said he is right as to the law, but he would not pass upon whether or not his procedure in the court would be upheld by the judges as correct.

This objection to filling of the so-called vacancy is general, but Levitt has raised an objection that applies to Black or to any other member of congress in particular. Members of congress are disqualified for positions the emoluments of which have been increased during their terms.

The law providing for retirement of justices of the supreme court increased the retirement pay and fixed it so that it may not be diminished during the life of the recipient, a thing that had happened to Justice Holmes after his retirement.

Nobody publicly has undertaken to dislodge the theory of Senator Borah by argument. It has been dismissed only by wisecracks, which has become the customary manner of disposing of reason in Washington.

What the supreme court will do is problematical, even in the event it held the Borah view. When Senator Black's committee operated in conjunction with the federal communications commission to effect seizure of everybody's telegrams, the court held the procedure illegal, but issued no order. It gave as a reason for its rather contradictory position that it is reticent in matters that might indicate a disposition of the court to interfere with procedure of other principal departments of the government.

It is within the realm of probability that the court would be as reticent about interfering with the processes that sent it a new member through operation of the other two principal departments.

MEMORIAL TO EUGENE FIELD

"In Lover's Lane, St. Jo" the Women's Press club of St. Joseph, Mo., proposes to erect a memorial to Eugene Field, who came to be known as the children's poet, and it is planned that the memorial shall take the form of "Little Boy Blue."

Field's early accomplishments were coincident with his employment as reporter and city editor of the St.

Joseph Gazette. Many of his best known poems were inspired in St. Jo.

Forty-two years have passed since the death of Field, but Mrs. Field survived until last year. At the time of his death Field was writing under the heading, Sharps and Flats, in the Chicago News. His poems make up a large volume, but the story of his rollicking life fills another volume.

The announcement of the sponsors of the St. Joseph project is:

"A statue to Little Boy Blue is the proposed national Eugene Field memorial, to be erected in Lover's lane.
 The memorial fund will be obtained through a nationwide popular one dollar subscription, and school children 10 cents, starting about September 15. The campaign will be conducted from headquarters, St. Joseph, Mo."

St. Louis and Denver were the other principal scenes of Field's newspaper work and his western verse was penned at Denver.

Mrs. Justice Black

One of the proudest boasts of Josephine Foster Black, handsome, 38 year old wife of the new Supreme Court justice, is that she once served in the United States navy.

It was during the World war. She enlisted as a "yeomanette" and was promoted from third-class to second-class grade. She received $41 a month pay and $60 subsistence.
 In addition she was furnished a full set of uniforms. These, Mr.
 Black laughingly says, were "something to thrill any young girl."

The outfit consisted of four white duck uniforms with gored skirts and coats with box pleats and brass buttons. Also there was a blue serge uniform with a flowing blue cape.

Mrs. Black's favorite story of her navy service is about an amusing mishap. She enlisted in New York and was sent to the naval hospital in Brooklyn for a physical examination. When it was over, she relates, she discovered that her clothes had disappeared.

A Man's Navy

"It was an extremely embarrassing moment. All I had on was a sheet. Finally I remembered that I had put my clothes on top of a bookcase. I hurried there and found they had fallen down behind. I struggled with the top section of the bookcase, but couldn't budge it."

"I had to have some help, so I mustered up my courage, went to the door and called timidly. No one heard me, so I called louder.
 It seemed hours before my cries attracted any attention."

"When at last my clothes were recovered, there was a perspiring wilted group of men. They had had to remove hundreds of the heavy books and take the sections down one by one before they could move the case."

"As I left, I heard one of the men groan, 'Oh Lord, please keep this a man's navy!'"

ROCKFORD NET TEAM DEFEATS LOCAL OUTFIT

Dixon Racqueteers Make Auspicious Court Debut

Playing without the services of their No. 2 man, Howard Quick, a crippled No. 1 man George Covert who was handicapped by an injured hand, Dixon's newly-organized tennis team members gave a fine exhibition of skill but dropped their first inter-city match Sunday to the Rockford Fellowship Tennis club team by a score of 6 to 3 on the Dixon courts Sunday afternoon.

Rockford brought down six players for the matches which began at 2 P. M. and continued until dusk. The Dixon team managed to come through with match victories in two singles, out of four, and one doubles match out of three played. Covert played No. 3 position and Ken Smith was elevated to No. 1 position for the matches. Chuck Coffin played No. 2 against Chuck Carter of Rockford in a match which proved to be the hardest fought singles of the afternoon. Coffin outlasted Carter through a grueling 9-7 opening set then dropped the second set also a deuce encounter 8-6. Carter took advantage of Coffin's inability to control his drives in the last set and won set and match 6-3.

Went Full 3 Sets

All three of the first three singles matches went the full three sets. Ken Smith led off against Ed Oman and was beaten. Carter doubled Coffin in three sets, and J. Brereton of Rockford was reversed by Covert after winning the first set of 1-2 match 6-3. In the second three singles matches Bill Rusk overcame a 5-3 lead in the final and deciding set of his match with Jack Taylor and won 7-5 for 6-8, 6-2, 7-5 match triumph.

Rockford enjoyed a comparatively easy doubles triumph losing only the match between Engquist-Taylor against Covert-Smith. This match continued until dusk and Dixon won 7-5, 4-6, 6-3.

The results counting victor's score first:

Singles

No. 1 Ed Oman (R) vs Ken Smith (D) 4-6, 6-2, 6-2 (Oman).
No. 2 C. Carter (R) vs Chuck Coffin (D) 7-9, 8-6, 6-3 (Carter).
No. 3 J. Brereton (R) vs George Covert (D) 6-3, 4-6, 1-6 (Covert).
No. 4 Jack Taylor (R) vs Bill Rusk (D) 8-6, 2-6, 5-7 (Rusk).
No. 5 Walt Petrovich (R) vs William Krug (D) 6-1, 6-1 (Petrovich).
No. 6 Paul Hutton (R) vs Clifford Flanagan (D) 6-1, 6-1 (Hutton).

Doubles

No. 1 Carter-Brereton (R) vs Flanagan-Ross (D) 6-3, 6-1, (Carter-Brereton).
No. 2 Engquist-Taylor (R) vs Covert-Smith (D) 5-7, 6-4, 6-3 (Covert-Smith).
No. 3 Oman-Petrovich vs Kearney-Coffin (D) 6-1, 6-3 (Oman-Petrovich).

A. A. U. Considering Four New Records Made By Swimmers

Jacksonville, Ind., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Amateur Athletic Union officials had under consideration today four new records established by swimmers of five states in national junior, mid-states and Indiana-Kentucky championships at Shakamak State Park's lake near here.

A new national junior women's A. A. U. mark was set by a quartet representing the Columbus, O. Athletic club in the finals of week-end competition yesterday. The Ohio team stroked the 800-meter free style relay in 12:09.8.

Mary Ryan, 12-year-old Louisville mermaid, led the assault on meet records which produced four new marks by winning the 400-meter free style even in 5:56.6.

The Indianapolis Athletic club won team honors in the Indiana-Kentucky meet with 29 points. The University of Illinois team topped the mid-states division with 27 points.

Detroit Man Wins Left-Handed Golf Association Meet

Chicago, Aug. 23.—(AP)—A former University of Michigan player, Arthur J. Thorne of Detroit, today held the second championship of the national left-handed golfers' Association.

In the association's second tournament, completed Saturday at Olympia Fields, Thorne won the southpaw crown by defeating Alvin Everett of Rome, Ga., one up in 36 holes.

BOB FELLER IS BIGGEST BUST OF 1937 SEASON

Every Walk Means A Run And Bobby Lives Up To It

By SID FREDER Associated Press Sports Writer

It doesn't even take a good look any more to show what's wrong with Bobby Feller. Just a peek at the standings will tell you his record, like Babe Ruth's figure, bulges in the wrong places.

With his speed and youth, he may become the sensation of his baseball generation, but up to now he seems well on the way to going down as the biggest bust since Fred Markle detoured from first to third. For all the good he's done the Cleveland Indians this year, he might just as well have been back on the farm, for all the class he's shown to warrant the book full of headlines they gave him, he might as well have been a butcher in Bangkok.

And it's all because Master Bobby, game by game, is living up to baseball's bewitched old saw, "every walk means a run."

Overlooking for the moment the fact that the Cubs' worries have been momentarily sidetracked by a four-game lead in the National league's figures for the season.

Poor Mound Record He's been in 15 games for 79 innings, has allowed 61 hits, fanned 69, hit 56 bases on balls, and fanned 69.

Steering that course, which resembles nothing so much as the zig-zagging of a streak of lightning on the loose, Feller has come close to allowing two men on base for each inning he's pitched and for each batter he's fanned. His 69 strikeouts in 79 innings show that he's really "got something there" in that smokeball of his, but on the other hand, 126 batters have jogged to first against him over the same stretch.

His inability to get his pitches within maling distance of home plate was never so obvious as yesterday. Although he allowed only two hits in the five innings he worked, he walked seven in two frames, five of them in a row, which does not exactly come under the head of control.

As a result, the White Sox socked him and the Indians, 5-2, in the first game of a doubleheader. The Tribe came through, 3-2, in the second, but by that time the record books showed Feller's fifth defeat against three wins for the year, with one of the season's queerest performances.

Cubs Get Twin Win Meantime, the Chicago Cubs, who were supposed to be falling apart, rolled along to a twin win over the Reds, 4-1 and 5-2. Since the Giants' doubleheader with the Phillies was rained out, the Cubs rested on a four-game lead as they headed east to tangle with their arch-rivals.

The Cardinals came back and took the Pirates for a double "bug-zzy ride," 12-0 and 9-7. Dizzy Dean won his first victory since July 4 and hit his first homer of the year in the nightcap. The Dodgers beat the Bees, 5-1, in six innings before rain ended their scheduled doubleheader.

Jo DiMaggio belted homer No. 36. Lefty Gomez fanned 10 and the Yanks whipped the Athletics, 4-1, in a five-inning meeting. Their nightcap also drowned in the weather. The Tigers trounced the Browns twice, 11-3 and 4-3. The Senators and Red Sox were washed out.

Most of the straw hats known as "Panamas" are manufactured in Ecuador, Colombia and Venezuela.

The national forest system now contains 170,000,000 acres.

Great Race!

Bachrach Defies Blood Pressure, Bets $100 on Victory

The die is cast and the contestants only have two weeks to prepare for the dash of the century! Sam Bachrach, in official defiance of blood pressure, obesity and other complications of the human machine likely to be aggravated by dog days, has issued a challenge to an athletic competitor, Isadore Eichler, to race a 100 yards at a $1 a yard, winner take all.

According to announcements direct from Sam and his trainers, the great pedatory classic of the community will be run at the Elks' clam bake, Monday, September 6, Labor Day. Bachrach is confident of victory and is rumored to be grooming his leg by walking five miles a day.

Eichler Silent

Eichler has kept discreetly silent and has not as yet disclosed his tactics. It is reported, however, feverish preparations are underway to outfit him with a special brand of shoes carried in stock guaranteed to win for the wearer a race with even Jesse Owens himself.

The race is billed as a special feature and is likely to bring out the greatest crowd ever attending the clam bake. No information was forthcoming today as to whether a refreshment stand might be erected at the 50-yard mark to assuage the weary competitors before the last grueling 50 yards of their marathon sprint.

CALIFORNIA HAS WIGHTMAN CUP WINNER ALSO

Puffed Up Over Davis Cup Duo, Alice Marble and Jacobs

New York, Aug. 23.—(AP)—California already is taking bows for its weather and for having produced red-headed Don Budge and blond Gene Mako, two-thirds of the team that brought the Davis Cup back to this country.

Today California can take another for having such a big hand in keeping the Wightman Cup, women's international tennis trophy, safe at home for the seventh year in a row.

For, in the 6-1 victory scored by the American girls over the British challengers Friday and Saturday at Forest Hills, California's daughters accounted for 4 1/2 points. Two singles victories each were won by national Champion Alice Marble of San Francisco, and Helen Jacobs, the Berkeley, Calif., veteran.

Miss Marble also teamed with Boston's Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan to achieve the lone U. S. victory in doubles.

Besides furnishing the two outstanding competitive stars for the home side, California contributed the most popular performer of the two-day, seven-match series. She was 21-year-old Dorothy May Sutton Bundy, the girl who kept 3,000 spectators in their seats on Saturday long after Miss Jacobs already had won the clinching point. Dorothy, named to the squad but not included in the team picked for the matches, got her break when Miss Jacobs withdrew from the concluding doubles. Facing England's strongest duo, Kay Stammers and Freda James, and paired with a veteran but unfamiliar partner, Mrs. Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, Miss Bundy promptly stole the show, though she couldn't keep her opponents from scoring the victory that gave England its only point.

Commodore Oliver H. Perry, hero of the naval battle of Lake Erie during the War of 1812, is commemorated by the Kentucky county bearing his name.

The first radio distress call was sent from the British lightship R. F. Matthews in 1899.

Campers in the national forests are required to get a permit before building fires.

Dixon Gets Revenge On Shabbona's Nine By Winning 9 to 5

Dixon gained revenge on Shabbona's Junior Legion baseball nine at Reynolds field Sunday afternoon by winning 9 to 5 despite the efforts of Breunig, Shabbona's star third sacker who plastered a home run over the left field fence and got three singles in five trips to the plate.

Pitcher Cox of the Dixon Junior Legion team struck out twelve men and walked one during the contest. Dixon bunched its hits getting four in an eighth inning splurge that guaranteed the locals their victory.

Three-Eye League Standings Remain Unaltered Today

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Week-end games failed to change the standing of teams in the Three-Eye league, with Clinton remaining well out in front and the second place Moline club maintaining a good margin over Decatur and Peoria.

Clinton and Peoria divided their Sunday double bill, the pace-setters losing the opener, 9 to 2, and winning the nightcap, 9 to 7. Moline and Decatur also broke even, the Ploxyboys winning the first tilt 13 to 3 and dropping the nightcap, 2 to 1.

FORMER ILL. COLL. ATHLETES NAMED ON COACH STAFF

Athletic Director Returned To Head Grid Coach Job

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 23.—Athletic Director LaRue Van Meter has announced the appointment of two prominent Illinois college athletes and campus leaders as members of the coaching staff at Illinois college for the coming year.

Alfred Lamb of Abingdon, Illinois, will coach swimming and baseball and assist Coach Van Meter in coaching varsity football. Lamb graduated last June. He was highly recommended by Coach Ray Nussipickel, who returns to the University of Illinois to assist Bob Zuppke after a highly successful coaching career at Illinois college. Lamb could not make baseball in the "blue boy" camp so he emulated Boswell and became Nussipickel's shadow as did Boswell to Dr. John Swain. While in college Lamb starred at quarter-back.

Smith Fresh Coach

Ray Smith of Pleasant Hill, Illinois, the other "blue-boy" to be added to the staff who also graduated last June, will serve as freshman coach of football and basketball and will coach varsity track. Smith won letters in basketball and football in college and was considered one of the outstanding half-backs in the conference in the latter sport. He also served as football captain his senior year. Last season while a student Smith coached the freshman basketball team to a very successful record.

Both Smith and Lamb will have a part in the physical education program and the teaching of courses in athletics and physical education.

The new division of duties returns Director of Athletics LaRue Van Meter to the position of head football coach. Van Meter will continue as head coach of varsity basketball.

FARR NETTLED BY BAER; WANTS TO START FIGHT

Please Spectators Who Like To See Ring Spirit

Long Branch, N. J., Aug. 23.—(AP)—There's a surprising lot of off-hand opinion around here that Tommy Farr, the short-tempered and awkward-looking Welshman, is likely to give Joe Louis a lot more trouble Thursday night at Yankee Stadium than Joe has in mind.

Farr made a lot of friends yesterday when he offered—even insisted on climbing aboard Max Baer. He wanted to slug Max, and he would have if he hadn't pulled him off. It wasn't a phoney. He was sore at some slighting remarks Maxie had made about his punch, or lack of punch, and he wanted to start something right then and there.

The boys like that. Here was a guy with a lot of money coming up Thursday night, more than he ever imagined before his life, and he was willing to risk losing it for the unalloyed pleasure of hanging one on Baer's whiskers. If his manager, Ted Broadbent, hadn't jumped between them, Farr would have, too.

He might have broken a knuckle, or had that cut under his eye opened wide. Neither Tommy nor Max had gloves on when the tough hombre from Tonypandy butted heads with the play boy. Farr called Baer a few things that would get the average man hit. If Max hadn't held his temper, Mike Jacobs might have had a headache today to end all headaches.

of a meat market, was shot and killed by one of two gunmen while strolling in Grant park near Chicago's loop with the young woman who police said gave various names including Lucille Buehler, Mrs. Thompson and Grace Snyder.

At the inquest where Miss Snyder—she insisted today that was her real name—encountered Burns widow, comely Mrs. Theresa Burns, 41, for the second time since the butcher's death, the attractive blonde refused to testify on advice of her attorney.

Moved by her attitude, Deputy Coroner Chris McGarrigle continued the hearing until Sept. 10 and ordered police to hold the woman under bond to insure her reappearance.

Argued About Money
Mrs. Burns, who ignored her rival throughout the brief hearing, testified she was en route home from Remsen, Ia., where she had been visiting a sister, at the time of the slaying. The widow said she left home a month ago after "a trivial argument about money." She declared she had never seen Miss Snyder before.

In a statement to Police Sergeant James Coleman after the shooting, Miss Snyder related her story of the shooting.

"I loved Bobby and he loved me," she was quoted by police as saying, "but I never knew that he was married. We were walking in Grant Park, talking about our plans to marry, when suddenly two men stepped up to us. I don't remember much of what happened except that one of the men slapped me and the other shot Bobby."

The killers, who fled in an automobile which was parked on Michigan avenue, made no effort to take $68 of Burns' money which Miss Buehler said she was carrying for safekeeping.

"I never knew there was another woman in his life," Mrs. Burns told police.

JAP GUNBOAT SUNK

Shanghai, Aug. 23.—(AP)—An American eyewitness stated tonight he had seen one Japanese destroyer badly damaged and a Japanese gunboat sunk by Chinese bombers as the warships were covering the landing of Japanese army units near Woosung.

Michael Hermann, of Chicago, an oil chemist, said he viewed the battle from the deck of a Texas company tanker.

The Japanese destroyer, he said, was hurled from the scene in tow of a sister destroyer.

The gunboat keeled over at an angle of 45 degrees and went down. This fight apparently was one of many that raged along the banks of the Yangtze river as a new Japanese army sought a foothold on Chinese soil.

Big Force Landed

Under heavy barrages from 26 Japanese cruisers and destroyers the Japanese army landed a formidable force in the Woosung area north of Shanghai, to be thrown into the battle for this city.

Japanese said they had put 50,000 officers and men ashore; Chinese officials said not more than 15,000 had landed; independent estimates ranged between these figures.

The reinforcements were regular army divisions brought directly from the homeland, and Japanese said their entry would open a new phase in the devastating Shanghai conflict, which has raged for 11 days on almost equal terms.

They predicted that Shanghai area would be cleared quickly of Chinese armies.

Italian Sailors
Trainmen, Killed
In Train Wreck

Genoa, Italy, Aug. 23.—(AP)—Ten Italian sailors and a trainman were killed and 40 sailors were injured today in a head-on collision of their excursion train and a freight train at Vigo Morasso curve. The ten sailors and the freight train engineer died on their way to a hospital or at the hospital.

Officials, asserting the freight train was running off schedule, began an exhaustive inquiry. They did not state its nature, but railroad employees expressed fear that the accident was the result of anti-Fascist sabotage.

The sailors were enroute to the mountain town of Casella to enjoy a fiesta arranged for them during the visit of the second naval squadron to Genoa.

The squadron yesterday thundered a welcome to Italy's newest warship, the 35,000-ton battleship Littorio, when she was launched here in the presence of King Vittorio Emanuele, his queen, 5,000 uniformed Fascists, and 100,000 cheering Italians.

REMINISCENCES

By H. G. REMINGTON

Dixon Telegraph Staff Writer and Former London Times Military and Feature Writer

White travelers in West Africa are unaffably struck by the curious forms of worship adopted by the superstitious natives. They illustrate the truth of the saying that every human being acknowledges in his heart some sort of worship to a deity, but the varieties in the Dark Continent are queer indeed.

Take a stroll through any African town or village of the west coast countries and you will find a score of little thatched huts with mud floors on which are thrown a heap of ordinary stones. These huts are the fetish houses, to which the natives go and salaam and ask their gods for various blessings after leaving offerings of beads, yams and nuts.

In some of the West African countries they even worship small-pox. The natives treat the infected patient with great reverence and even rub their faces on his body to obtain the desired scars. European administrators naturally regard this form of worship sternly. Some tribal chiefs have been suspended for having encouraged it but it persists today.

The belief the native has in the efficiency of ju-ju or witchcraft is touching in the extreme. Take the case of the man who believes his wife is not as faithful to him as she should be. He promptly proceeds to the witchdoctor and on payment of a fee varying in amount according to the required severity of the spell he requests that a ju-ju spell shall be put on his hated rival.

When one of these rivals dies from a dose of ground glass or the thousand and one ways in which the crime can be committed in Africa—the triumphant husband exclaims:

"Ha! see the power of ju-ju!" and the witchdoctor adds more kudos to his reputation.

Funeral ceremonies, too, are carried out with the strictest regard to the appeasing of the gods. When a man dies out in the bush his comrades strap his corpse to a plank and hoist it on to the head of one of their member who leads them in procession to the home of the deceased. Another native runs in front pulling the feathers out of a live chicken and scattering them broadcast. The others bring up at the rear with much beating of tom-toms and yelling. Arrived at the dead man's hut the body is buried under the floor and all relations and friends come in and drink gin and feast in a beastly orgie for as many nights as the family have money to buy the liquor.

Included in these celebrations there is much firing of guns and beating of drums to scare off evil spirits. Tenderfoot white men are distracted by the racket but after a time they treat it quite as an ordinary occurrence.

Another curious practice dating back from very early times, is the playing of the instrument called the oro. This is made of a piece of native wood or metal shaped like a dagger to which a long string is attached.

When this is swung round and round it produces a truly blood-curdling sound, like a long drawn wail. This sound is supposed to be the crying out of dead spirits and only the men can look safely on the oro and live.

If a woman looks on it she dies. The native will tell you her death is caused by spells induced by the dead spirits, but in reality her demise is due to the whirling oro striking her on the back of the head.

The West African is very fond of processions and a very common sight is to see a native dressed from head to foot in weird colored clothing, carrying an idol, leaping in the air and waving his arms, followed by an admiring crowd of men, women and children. This apparition is held by common consent to be the spirit of a dead man paying a visit to the earth.

I am reminded of other curious processions in the southern part of Nigeria every time the period rolls around at home for the annual "Go-to-Church" campaign. Just as there are many persons in America who do not go to church frequently, there are in West Africa many who do not visit the fetish houses as often as they should.

The natives have worked out a plan to reach these fetish house slackers. A cage made of ebony or other native woods, highly ornamented with beads, stones, shells, feathers, etc., is lashed atop the head of a woman. Into this cage is placed an idol taken from the fetish house for this special occasion. Heading a noisy procession the woman leads the crowd to the huts of those who have neglected their duties at the fetish house.

The witchdoctor puts the idol through a series of passes like the magician pulling rabbits out of a silk hat, utters a solemn warning to the delinquent, and then collects a fee. If the fee is not forthcoming then the witchdoctor informs the slacker that he'll sick the ju-ju on him. The fee generally is paid promptly.

Extraordinary secrecy is maintained as to ju-ju. I have more than once questioned witchdoctors as to their powers, offering to give them money if they would show me some occult acts. They always declined, though the proffered bribe was big enough to induce them to murder a compatriot.

Invariably they replied: "He be no good ju-ju for white man."

Even the educated native, who in ordinary things of life affects European ways and scorns his humble brother, has a wholesome respect for the power of ju-ju.

One day I came across a native road foreman who from infancy had been brought up in the Christian religion. While making a new road this man had to tear down a number of native houses and brought to light a score of corpses which had been buried under the floors.

This brought down the wrath of the local residents on his head and they put a fearful death ju-ju on him.

Curiously enough, a few months later he was taken very ill with fever and nearly died. Of course the people were jubilant and gloried in the efficacy of the great ju-ju. He recovered and completed the road, but he would not go down that road unless in company with the white engineer if he were offered untold gold.

West Africa is indeed a country of contrasts. One can go, in the larger towns, to listen to a sermon of quite an erudite kind from a native person who could probably pass an American or European university examination, yet on coming out one as likely as not will run into one of these ju-ju processions.

I am inclined to think that centuries of ju-ju tradition will take centuries of Christian labor to break it down, particularly in Southern Nigeria and some of the Gold Coast countries.

In Northern Nigeria it is different. There the Hausas, an Arab-like race, are Mohammedans in religion and look with scorn on the ju-ju practices of the Yorubas and other tribes to the south.

Relief Ache

Some Congressmen Undoubtedly Dread Return to Capital

By Preston Grover

Washington — That old relief headache has bobbed up again on capitol hill and seems to be digging in to welcome the congress back in January.

Congress and the relief problem are a little like the cranky mountaineer who peered out his cabin door at the mob of youngsters in the yard and shouted:

"Those o' you belong t' me, get in the house. And those o' you don't, git on home."

Congress is just that confused a father to the unemployed, although it has shoveled billions down the chute to them in the last four years.

Actually, the "unemployed" have never been defined. They were such a hungry lot in 1933 there was no time to do it, and it hasn't been done yet.

Is a widow who makes $4 a week embroidering doilies at home unemployed if she can't feed her brood on that $4? Is a youngster who was graduated in 1935 and never found a job unemployed? How unemployed is a man who gets $200 a year from a canning factory but can't make it stretch the whole 12 months, and can't find another job?

It's Nothing New

In the year ending June 30 WPA spent $1,899,069,166 on jobs for 1,656,533 people. More millions poured through the social security sieve to poverty-stricken blind, aged and children. Still more millions are keeping the CCC boys off the rattlers.

"Fanny's diary says you're stern and elemental, like the Old West. You think that means she likes you, Buck?"

Yet every congressman's mail has pleas from people who can't find any government cash-register open to them, and can't find a job.

To make matters more complicated Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia keeps loudly demanding a balanced budget.

There's a faint hope on the hill that maybe relief bills could be cut if the relief problem could be reduced to a simple system. In the last few weeks several efforts in that direction have bobbed up to remind congress that "the poor, ye have always with you."

Congress Proposed

Just a few weeks ago the newly named Associate Justice Hugo L.

Black pushed through the senate a bill to take a census of the unemployed. He wants it "on or before" April 1, 1938. It is estimated the census would cost $5,000,000.

Immediately Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, who engineered the war draft, denounced the plan as clumsy and needlessly expensive. He wants all relief cases to register on a given day.

Then Johnson's argument was popped by trained relief workers. They say some people would register at four or five different places just to be sure they got relief.

There have been other congressional eruptions of the problem. In the house, Rep. Maury Maverick of Texas rounded up 28 others to sponsor a bill asking for an unemployment commission to investigate the whole subject of destitution and to report back when congress meets again.

In the senate an unemployment investigating committee is planning hearings in the fall. They will report when congress convenes again.

As a result the congressional bill-of-fare for 1938 bids fair to dish up relief. And with the 1938 elections around the corner that may look to congressmen like a sensible diet.

STORIES IN STAMPS

WHERE the beautiful Seine curves through the heart of France's capital, the International Exposition of 1937 plays host to the world today—an inventory of the civilization of the present and of the future.

More than half a hundred nations are represented. Fascism exhibits side by side with democracy and the papal flag flies across a court from the Jewish symbols of Palestine. But there is something more to this Paris exposition than mere size, and that is its dedication to the future. In addition to its portrayal of past human progress, it seeks to depict the world of tomorrow.

Accordingly each country represented tells how it seeks to "set the future free"—free from disease, from useless toil, from exploitation of the human being; from ugliness. Here is portrayed the ultimate in human dreams.

But the Paris exposition is more, too. Construction for this show has modified the face of Paris, touched it up, beautified it. Around the picturesque Eiffel Tower are ranged great halls, museums, amphitheaters. The total ground occupies 247 acres. And the French government hopes the whole affair will be profitable. The exposition is commemorated by a current French issue.

REPORTER GETS DATA ON STATE HOSPITAL HERE

Telegraph Writer Given Personal Tour of Big Institution

Yesterday afternoon a Telegraph representative visited that colony of frightened people and pathetic victims of uncontrolled minds and bodies, the Dixon state hospital.

As we walked beyond the massive stone entrance we faced a long shaded lawn stretching to the group of buildings and reminding us at once of a well-groomed college campus.

On the lawn visitors and relatives of patients were enjoying basket lunches as they might in any shaded park.

On a tall pole before the nearly-completed new Administration building the American flag waved in the summer sunshine completing an outward picture of serenity and beauty.

As we waited in the lobby of the present administration building we watched patients and relatives as they came for information or to the lobby's commissary to buy ice cream and candy.

A girl patient with a page-boy bob stood looking without seeming enjoyment on a large ice cream cone which evidently had been the present of the young man standing with her. The girl clutched her arm nervously and tried hard to smile back at the young man who appeared to be her brother.

Marsellus in Charge
After a short time we were admitted into the office to meet Dr. H. E. Marsellus, Assistant Managing Officer and in full charge during the Sunday holiday of Dr. Warren G. Murray, head of the hospital staff.

During our long visit with Dr. Marsellus the interview was interrupted at times by relatives wishing to confer with the doctor about their patients. In this trying work so full of "grief" we found Dr. Marsellus a man of extreme tact and compassion. His very clear explanations of case histories and his graphic accounts of various patients were in a language easily understandable to the layman relative.

For the information about the hospital we are grateful to Dr. Marsellus.

3,100 Patients Now
There are some 3,100 patients at the institution and 370 employees. In one day these people use 430 pounds of beef and pork, 150 pounds of butter, 5,700 pounds of fluid milk, 40 pounds of evaporated milk, 90 pounds of eggs, 1,300 pounds of potatoes, 1,500 pounds of white flour and 73 pounds of coffee. In one month three barbers and five patient helpers give 5262 shaves and 1,685 haircuts.

The fifty-four patients of the mending room repaired 16,267 articles in one month; the sewing room made 5,018 textile articles for which 7,683 yards of material were used; the marking room stamped names of patients and cottages on 4,343 articles of clothing.

Weekly the laundry washes an average of 69,264 pounds of clothing and linen.

Many Other Activities
Last year 1,468 brooms, 352 deck brushes and 1,613 scrub brushes were made, 1,514 pillows were renovated, 18,400 shoes repaired and 1,826 yards of rugs woven. All this is done in the Occupational Therapy department which is designed to keep the mind and hands of the patient busy and at the same time instructing him in a craft he may employ upon leaving the institution.

Once a month the hospital issues a periodical, "The Cottage Visitor," which is printed by patients and which contains personal items of interest.

The Show Must Go On

Boake Carter, famous Philco radio news commentator, who recently was stricken with pleurisy and confined to a sick-bed, is broadcasting to his millions of listeners through a remote control microphone set up by Station WCAU in the studio of his home in Torresdale, in suburban Philadelphia.

terest and news of the colony's activities and amusements.

Dr. Marsellus explained that there are three legal terms or classifications under which patients are committed to the hospital. These are: (1) Feeble-minded, of which there are some 1,200 and who are subject to convulsions. (2) Epileptics, of which there are some 700-800. These are often quite normal at times and may have a very high I. Q. They are often employed at various jobs requiring skilled work.

(3) Those suffering with encephalitis or inflammation of the brain. Encephalitis is an after-effect of sleeping sickness and first flared up during and after the World War. Many doctors diagnosed it as "flu" because of the similar symptoms of dullness and drowsiness. Often it was not recognized until later symptoms appeared. In this stage the patient is unable to help himself; the brain inflammation is gradually replaced by scar tissue which is unable to function. The real cause of the disease is still unknown. On July 1, 1931 the law committing encephalitics to the state institution was put into effect.

1,040 Acre Institution
The state owns some 1,040 acres of land of which 60 acres are used for truck farming and the rest, not used by the buildings, is either under cultivation or used as pasture. The hospital, with the aid of the patients, raises much of its own food and fodder for cattle.

On a colony farm a mile from the hospital 40 men till the soil and harvest crops. In spite of this activity there is not enough to supply the yearly demand and much has to be purchased outside. In the kitchens, under the supervision of expert cooks, many patients are employed getting the meals, canning, beets, corn and other vegetables.

Every day is wash day at the hospital and often the work runs into the night. The huge laundry also employs patient help. Safety devices are used so if a patient should fall into or on a machine it will stop automatically.

Christmas Sales
In the Occupational Therapy department rugs are woven and baskets are made. Each year just before Christmas there is a sale of the articles which, as surplus, have not found a place in the colony's use. The staff is allowed first chance and relatives are permitted to buy.

Several patients enjoy a trust fund which relatives have placed in the hands of the hospital to be allotted so much at a time for various luxuries to be bought at the commissary. This commissary is managed by patients and the proceeds turned over to a fund for amusements.

No charge is asked for care and treatment. However, the statutes do provide that a relative shall furnish whatever he can in the way of clothing. There is no such thing as a "uniform garb" at the hospital.

We believe that few people from and around Dixon have seen the Dixon State Hospital as we saw it yesterday. For the tour the reporter is grateful to an obliging staff.

PREDICT BEST CROP RETURN IN U. S. SINCE 1929
Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—Government economists predicted today that marketings of this season's principal crops plus government benefits will put $9,000,000,000 in the pockets of farmers, making it their most prosperous year since 1929.

This figure is over a billion dollars more than 1936 cash farm income, which was $7,865,000,000, and more than double the 1932 depression low of $4,328,000,000. The 1929 total was $10,479,000,000.

A. G. Black, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics, said 1937 was more favorable in another respect—the larger income is more evenly divided over the nation because droughts failed to damage crops of extensive regions as in 1934 and 1936.

Lists Increase Factors
The increased flow of dollars to farmers resulted, Black said, from improved demand for farm products due to general business recovery, reduction of supplies by recent droughts, and "farm programs carried on by the federal government."

The income survey estimated government payments to farmers in 1937 would amount to $400,000,000 or $450,000,000 compared with $287,000,000 in 1936. Speeding up payment checks accounted for the gain.

Income from farm marketings will run a $1,000,000,000 ahead of last year, the economists said, chiefly because of larger crops this year.

Hands Up, Park Your Guns Here

No foolin', this is a real holdup, but the boys with the guns are reaching for the sky as theater manager Lon (A. E.) Walker of Indianapolis relieves them of their shooting irons. The "frisking" of small boy patrons became necessary after the lads joined enthusiastically in the action of western movie thrillers, firing cap pistols and pop guns at the screen villains and taking part in movie gunplay. Other patrons complained, so now the boys check their guns at the door.

YEARLY CLAIM OF RECORD FOR ILLINOIS FAIR

Officials of State Exposition Run True To Tradition

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 23—(AP)—As gates closed on the 85th annual Illinois state fair today, the management followed tradition and claimed that the nine-day attendance set a record.

General Manager E. E. Irwin said "official figures" placed the attendance at 1,025,000 and claimed it was a record for any state fair. Although the large number of free tickets in circulation has made it impossible to get an accurate count at the gates, new marks in public support have been claimed each year.

As the fair closed yesterday, an announcement by Irwin alleged 100,000 attended the program featured by motorcycle races staged before the 10,000-seat grandstand. The selection of little snow white wire-haired fox terrier as best of all breeds in the Illinois State Fair Kennel club dog show, marked the closing event of the exposition.

$100 for Owner
The governor's trophy and $100 cash award went to James T. Boyle of Chicago, the owner. Capacity crowds filled the grandstand for the automobile and motorcycle races Saturday and Sunday. Mauri Rose of Columbus, O., averaged 88.90 miles per hour to win the 95 miles automobile race Saturday while J. Lester Hillbush, Reading, Pa., traveled 25 miles in 20:58.8 to win the class "C" motorcycle race.

The girls' drum and bugle corps from Wood River won the championship yesterday in the junior contests, scoring 95.8 against 94.9 for the corps from Troy.

A. N. Corrington, Normal, was named winner of the best display of all types and varieties in the gladiolus show.

Telegraph Praised by Sterling School
A. T. Scovill, president of the Scovill Schools of Sterling, now in their 31st consecutive year of bringing added educational facilities to high school and college graduates, announced that last week 60 per cent of the Dixon students who were enrolled in the Scovill schools had obtained jobs immediately upon graduation. These students were all graduates of Dixon high school before they enrolled in the complete secretarial school operated by Scovill.

Of the 110 students who attend the daily day and night classes, many are from Dixon, West Brooklyn, Franklin Grove, Amboy and Ashton. "These students were all gained through the medium of advertising through the Dixon Evening Telegraph," states Mr. Scovill. "I find that this paper gives highly satisfactory coverage in these communities. Therefore it is very essential to the Scovill schools as a medium through which to advertise and announce the various semesters, subjects and rates in effect at the schools."

ARTIST HEART VICTIM
Shelbyville, Ill.—(AP)—Heart disease was blamed today for the death of Robert Marshall Root, 74, prominent central Illinois artist whose body was found lying in a hotel room here Sunday. Many of the artist's paintings are on display in Illinois cities and he has been recognized for some by eastern critics.

Composer of "St. Louis Blues" Receives a Plaque This Eve.
St. Louis, Aug. 23—(AP)—The Negroes on the levee were singing "Lookin' for the Bully of the Town," ragtime's rhythmic ancestor, when young William C. Handy, Negro who later composed the famous "St. Louis Blues," strode down to the riverfront here one June night in 1893 looking for a job.

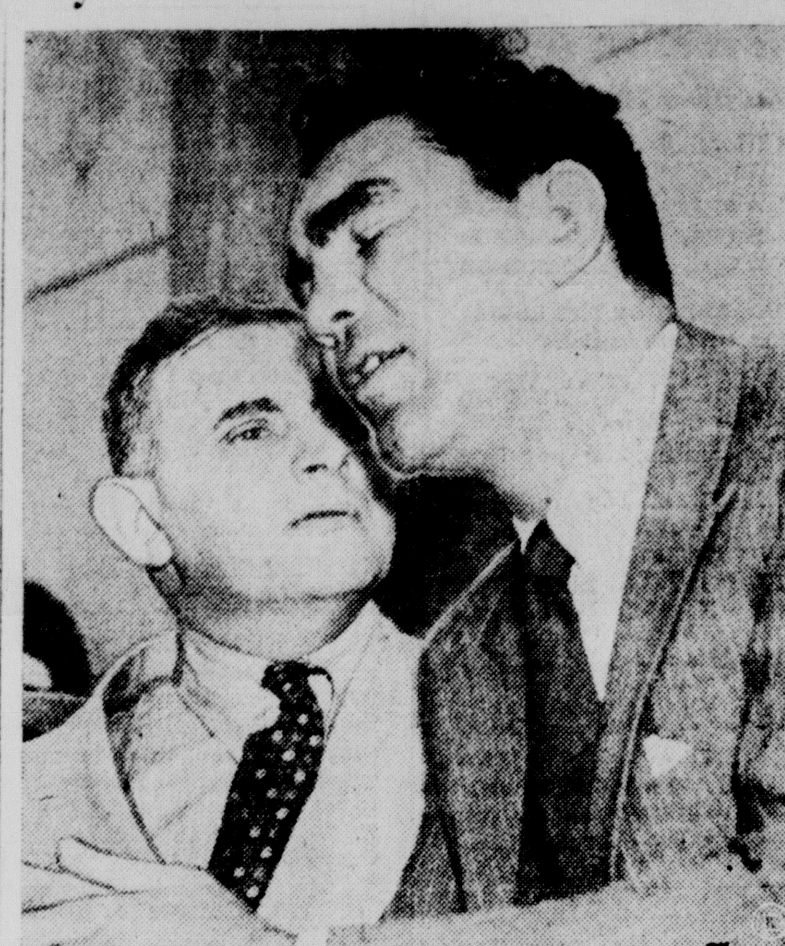

With just a few cents in his jeans, Handy needed money to complete his ministerial education.

He got a job on the levee and after a week changed his mind about his future. The workers' melancholy chants with the melodic blue notes caught his ear and he resolved to transcribe their simple beauty into orchestral music.

Tonight the St. Louis Musical association and the National Association of Negro Musicians will honor Handy with a plaque—for his "St. Louis Blues," first scribbled on a cigar box.

After Twenty Years
It was not until 20 years after his first visit that he returned to write the song "I had no idea would be so popular," the one that made him famous.

CONGRESS KEY MEN PLANNING NOV. SESSION

Say Unfinished Business Too Urgent To Wait Regular Session

Washington, Aug. 23—(AP)—A few of Congress' key men, remaining at the capital despite adjournment, are quietly preparing for a special session they said today they believed inevitable about November.

They described much of the unfinished business left by their home-bound colleagues as too urgent to wait the regular session next January.

Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis), one of the President's most intimate congressional advisors, frankly asserted the administration would court disaster if it delayed its permanent farm program until next year.

LaFollette Asks Farm Control
Unless production control machinery is set up before farmers begin their winter planting, he predicted, bumper wheat and cotton crops may send farm prices tumbling next autumn and jeopardize the prosperity of the nation.

Other congressional chiefs laid their plans to rush through farm legislation in November, if the President decides to call Congress back.

Leaders of both houses already have put this item at the head of their calendars for "next session"—whether special or regular.

The Senate agricultural committee scheduled a series of public hearings on proposed crop control legislation in 17 cities, beginning September 30. Senator Pope (D-Iowa) remained here in connection with arrangements for this.

The hearings will end November 1. Stokes, North Carolina, county farmers report the best small grain crop of recent years.

PENNA. KILLER, FUGITIVE, HAS BEEN CAPTURED

Former Political Boss Overtaken in New York Yesterday

New York, Aug. 23—(AP)—Weary of dodging police for eight months, Joseph J. (Big Joe) Bruno willingly faced return to Pennsylvania today to serve three life sentences for the 1934 "Kelayres massacre" of five men.

The 54 year old dethroned Republican political boss of Kelayres, Pa., was arrested by New York and Pennsylvania detectives Sunday near a rooming house in the upper east side where he had lived since last February.

Bruno, who had been confined in a luxuriously-equipped jail in Pottsville, Pa., pending hearing of an appeal, escaped last December 18 from a guard taking him to a dentist after he feigned a toothache. Attorney General Charles G. Margiotti of Pennsylvania, declined to disclose the source of a "personal tip" which he said led to Bruno's arrest.

No Resistance
The fugitive offered no resistance when he was accosted on the street by detectives.

"You're Bruno, aren't you?" one asked. Bruno, a short, partly-bald man weighing 20 pounds more than when he escaped, pointed to Chief of Detectives L. D. Buono of Schuylkill county.

"Ask that fellow with you," he replied. "I've known him for 20 years."

"Big Joe" was a detective on Buono's force at the time pistol, rifle and shotgun fire killed five and wounded more than 20 of a group of Democrats as they marched by the Bruno home in a torchlight political parade Nov. 5, 1934. Bruno and five members of his family were sentenced to prison terms.

SHOTGUNS BOOM LAUNCHES GRAND AMERICANSHOOT

Vandalia, O., Aug. 23—(AP)—The steady booming of 12-gauge shotguns opened main events in the Grand American trap shoot today with five championships tossed on the block.

The veterans' crown, at least, was slated for a new owner since Charles A. (Sparrow) Young, the 80-year-old trappshooting veteran from Springfield, O., was on the sidelines with traffic injuries.

Today's feature was the "champion of champions" race, with winners of state titles in a contest among themselves over the 100-target route.

Also on the program, which followed a resounding Iowa triumph Sunday in preliminary events, where the "husband-and-wife" championship, the junior and the sub-junior clay target championships.

On his second try to this southwestern Ohio shooting mecca, not far from Dayton, C. E. Heaton of Fairfax, Iowa, won the Vandalia open handicap yesterday for his legislation in 17 cities, beginning September 30. Senator Pope (D-Iowa) remained here in connection with arrangements for this.

The hearings will end November 1. Stokes, North Carolina, county farmers report the best small grain crop of recent years.
